DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claims 80-90, drawn to a bidentate motif.

Group II, claims 91-100, drawn to a method of modulating cellular activity in a cell.

Group III, claims 101-109, drawn to a method of treating a cytokine mediated condition.

Group IV, claim 110, drawn to a method of diagnosing a proliferative condition.

2. The inventions listed as Groups I-IV do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: claim 80 lacks novelty as being anticipated by Hayashida et al., (US Patent 5,112,961, 12 May 1992). The '961 patent teaches the β chain of the GM-CSF receptor comprising the "bidentate motif" Tyr593 and Ser601 (encompassing the 16 amino acid residue signal sequence of the GM-CSFR β chain (see Figure 1, part 5; claims 3 and 4, column 2, lines 44-54 to column 3, line 37 and Formulas I (with the signal sequence) and II (without the signal sequence); column 6, line 65 to column 7, line 18; and Example 4. Because the '961 patent anticipates claim 80, claim 80 lacks unity of invention. As such, the remaining claims lack the same or corresponding special technical feature and as such, lack unity. The expression "special technical features" means those technical features that define a contribution which each of the claimed inventions, considered as a whole, makes over the prior art. The requirement of unity of invention shall be fulfilled only when there is a technical relationship among those inventions involving one or more of the same or corresponding special technical features.

3. This application contains claims directed to more than one species of the generic invention. These species are deemed to lack unity of invention because they are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

The species are as follows: SEQ ID NOs: 71, 72, and 73

Art Unit: 1647

Applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single species to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. The reply must also identify the claims readable on the elected species, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered non-responsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

4. The claims are deemed to correspond to the species listed above in the following manner: 82, 91, 101, and 110. The following claim is generic: 80
5. The species listed above do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, the species lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: each of the sequences recited as SEQ ID NOs: 71, 72, and 73 is structurally unique and requires a separate search of the art in the sequence databases, the patent literature, and the non-patent literature.
6. Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement may be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To preserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.
7. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
